EXPOSURE OF BEAUTY PRODUCTS

Spaza offers a variety of clever and functional solutions for exposing beauty products such as soaps, shampoos, conditioners and lotions at hotels and spas, all of which are aimed at ensuring maximum exposure. Bottle holders and shelves free up surface space around the sink, bathtub and shower. Trays create space for interior design details and standalone beauty products.

WALL MOUNTING

With Spaza's adhesive kit (Extreme, Super and Primer), the products can be mounted onto different wall materials such as tile, stone, glass, mirrors, plastic, etc.

About Spaza

Spaza was founded by the product designer and entrepreneur Christian Runius, who saw there was a need for attractive, functional interior design components at style-conscious hotels and restaurants, such as for beauty products, where there are currently strong luxury organic brands that are growing in popularity and where exposing their products to guests plays a major part in the guests' experience and overall impression.

Spaza is driven by curiosity, creativity and minimalism. Factors that make time freeze for anyone who loves to create things. Our products are manufactured from a single raw material into a single-component item. Using as few manufacturing elements as possible and sticking to simple materials and forms are the limitations that define the complexity of creating minimalist products.

Today, Spaza offers toilet and bathroom accessories such as solutions for wall-mounted beauty products, bottle holders, shower shelving, cup holders and hooks. Our products are exclusively manufactured in Sweden and in line with Swedish design and industry traditions.

Philosophy

The products are not the focus. Space is the focus. Spaza reclaims surfaces, frees up space and creates room for the things that matter. The way in which every single one of our products are formed serves a specific purpose and does not try to capture the observer's attention. What makes the designs minimalist is the effect they have on their surroundings and the space they create.

Our products are manufactured from a single raw material into a single-component item. Using as few manufacturing elements as possible and sticking to simple materials and forms are the limitations that define the complexity of creating minimalist products. However, this also makes things easier at the same time; it allows us to focus on what matters without wasting time and energy on different assembly parts, instructions or moveable parts that can break. Minimalism entails only working with those processes and elements that are truly necessary.

Customization

Different installations and consumables have different requirements. For example, Spaza's bottle holders can be customised to fit different types of beauty product containers, and our cup holders can be adjusted to fit special types of glasses. The products can be manufactured with or without holes for screw mounting or adhesive fastening.

Installation

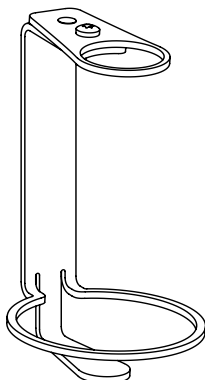

All of Spaza's products can be delivered with or without holes for mounting with screws or adhesives, depending on the customer's preference. Spaza has developed an adhesive kit for different requirements (Extreme, Super and Primer). Mounting with adhesives results in a stylish installation, keeps things simple and does not impair the bathroom's waterproofing. Feel free to get in touch if you need advice on the best way to mount our products!

Materials

All Spaza products are single-component items made from a single raw material, namely austenitic stainless steel 1.4301 (X5CrNi18-10). Austenitic stainless steel is suited for corrosion protection class C3 and C4, which corresponds to areas with moderate or high humidity as well as a certain content of chemical substances. The raw material is produced in Europe.
